

Jones, Seaver To Tangle In Finals Of Golf Tourney

Atlanta Challenger Has Sweetser Four Down at End of Eighteen.

BULLETIN

Bobby Jones went into the final round of the national amateur tournament here today when he gave Jess Sweetser, former British amateur champion, the licking of his life, winning the match 9 up and 8 to go.

From the time the Atlantan sunk an 18-foot putt on the first hole for a birdie his lead was never in danger.

By DAVIS J. WALSH

MERION CRICKET CLUB, SOUTH ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 26.—Bobby Jones, the old master himself, and Charley Seaver, callow youth from Los Angeles, almost surely will meet for the national amateur golf championship tomorrow. This much was determined in the semi-finals this morning when Jones, seeking his fourth major championship of the greatest year a golfer ever knew, finished the first eighteen holes of his semi-final match 4 up on Jess Sweetser.

Former champion of America and England, while Seaver, unknown five days ago, was 5 up on Gene Homans, New York at the same point. Jones had a 72 for the round to 80 for Sweetser, who except for a streak of scoring between the seventh and eleventh holes, where he won three holes out of four to become only 1 down, never had a chance with the Atlanta sorcerer.

The cards, in fact, tell the story: Jones 3 5 3 4 4 4 5 4 4—36. Sweetser 6 5 4 6 6 4 4 3—42. Jones 5 5 5 3 4 3 4 3 4—36-72. Sweetser 4 6 4 3 4 4 4 5—38-80. Jones, who lost this championship last year, but who has won everything else in the meantime, is seeking the title to round out a sequence of victories that so far include the two British championships and the American open. No golfer ever held as many as three titles in the same year; so right at this moment Jones is trying to do more that gild the lily. He is trying to improve on perfection—and not without success.

Except at the seventh, where he drove out of bounds, and at the tenth and twelfth, both of which he three-putted, the man without a weakness simply snowed Sweetser under. The latter once won this title, the year being 1922 and the place Brookline, Mass., on which occasion he defeated Jones in one of the match play rounds. Never before or since had they met. If they never meet again it will be all right with Sweetser. He was a beaten golfer from the moment that Jones sank a 16 footer for a birdie. It was a matter of record that Sweetser, usually a long hitter, never once out-drove Jones during the round.

As for young Seaver, who on successive days has defeated Don Armstrong, George Voigt and Bill McPhail to gain a degree of fame seldom visited upon one so young, he got in front of Homans at the second hole and, thereafter, he made every putt a winning one. He played very fair golf, indeed, with his 37-38-75.

OFFICER FACES

LIFE IN PRISON

HAZARD, Ky., Sept. 26.—Buck E. Hill, local fire chief and traffic officer, today faced life imprisonment in the state penitentiary following his conviction yesterday of the "willful murder" of the 21-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Maggard, here Sept. 6.

The officer fired pistol shots at the Maggard automobile which, he said, was exceeding the speed limit, in an effort to puncture the tires on the machine. Instead, the bullets entered the rear of the car and killed the baby.

MOTHER KILLS SLEEPING BABE

Ill Health Causes Act; Mother Then Turns Gun on Self

In Hannibal, O.

HANNIBAL, O., Sept. 26.—Carrying her sleeping daughter, Dorothy, 7, to a davenport and lulling her back to sleep when she awakened, Mrs. Edna Ritchie today shot and killed her daughter and then ended her own life by firing a bullet into her head. The double tragedy occurred this morning shortly after Raymond Ritchie, the husband and father, had departed for work.

Officials and friends of the family here believe that ill health was the reason for Mrs. Ritchie's act. She had just recently undergone treatment at a Pittsburgh hospital. Dorothy, it was said, won a child's beauty contest in Pittsburgh last year just prior to the time the family moved to Hannibal.

The mother and daughter both were dead when members of another family in the house found them lying on the davenport.

OHIO WELFARE GROUP WANTS NEW PRISONS

Commission Asks Not Over 1,200 Men Be Kept in One Pen.

SCORES HAZARDS

Recommends Wall At London Prison Farm.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 26.—Recommendations that no Ohio penal institution house more than 1,200 persons at one time, that the Grafton state farm be developed into a new state penal institution within the next two years, and that another correctional institution be built by the state within the next biennium are contained in the preliminary report of Governor Myers Y. Cooper's welfare advisory commission. The report is on file today with the governor.

Recommendations relative to conditions at the various state hospitals will be embodied in another report to be submitted by the commission to Governor Cooper at a later date.

In its present report, the commission insists that the Ohio legislature this winter should make provision for enlarging the facilities of the state's prisons and reformatories.

If it is found necessary to keep more than 1,300 prisoners at the London prison farm, the commission advised that a wall be built around at least a portion of the building there. The commission, however, recommended that the farm be maintained as a reformatory with a normal population.

Other recommendations for enlargement and betterment of physical facilities at the state's penal and correctional institutions include:

DEVELOP FARMS
Build additional dormitory units outside the walls of the Mansfield state reformatory, to relieve overcrowding; develop prison industries and farms as much as possible, eliminate fire hazards at the boys' industrial school, Lancaster, and the girls' industrial school, Delaware; erect a new cottage at the boys' industrial school and build new cottages, when needed to replace present units; all new cottages to be limited to a capacity of 30 inmates each; buy such additional land as may be needed for agricultural purposes at the girls' industrial school.

The Ohio prison population, the commission estimated, will be 16,672 by 1940. Last year it was 8,222, compared with 3,619 in 1920.

Appointed by the governor soon after the Ohio penitentiary holocaust last spring, the commission is cooperating with Governor Cooper, Hal H. Griswold, state welfare director, and other state officials in the preparation of plans, on a 10-year basis, designed to eliminate overcrowding and fire hazards, improve sanitary conditions and otherwise better the environment at the state's penal and correctional institutions and hospitals.

The commission comprises Julius F. Stone, Columbus, chairman; A. E. Anderson, Cincinnati; Dudley S. Blossom, Cleveland; Grover Patterson, Toledo; and Harry McLaughlin, Cleveland.

ANNOUNCE OHIO HEALTH MEETING

Official call for the eleventh annual conference of health commissioners with the state department of health Nov. 18 to 21 at the Neil House, Columbus, was sent to all Ohio health commissioners during the past week by Dr. C. HUNT MISSING MEN IN LAKE

William McNulty, Columbus Business Man, Is Lost With Parker, War Pilot.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—An intensive search over land and water was to be started today for William McNulty, a war-time pilot, and William McNulty, Columbus business man, who have been missing since 1:30 a. m., Wednesday when they took off from Cleveland airport for a "mystery" flight, presumably for Buffalo.

The hunt for the missing craft was to be concentrated over Lake Erie and between here and Mifflinburg, Pa., although the exact destination of Parker and McNulty is not known, it was recalled at the airport here that they headed toward Mifflinburg. Airport officials regarded it as possible, however, that the missing flyers may have lost their way and plunged into Lake Erie.

McNulty flew here with John Corrodi, Columbus pilot, last Tuesday. Parker replaced Corrodi at the controls when the plane hopped off on its "mystery" flight Wednesday morning. Airport authorities were puzzled over the change of pilots. McNulty had no authority to replace Corrodi.

ROTARIANS HEAR JUDGE

C. S. Younger, Head of the Ohio Insurance Department, Is Speaker.

Judge C. S. Younger, superintendent of insurance, addressed the Rotary Club at its meeting Thursday at the Boggs Hotel using as his subject, "The Relation of the Ohio Insurance Department to the Public."

Judge Younger said there is no other unit of state government nearer the people in all its many and varied ramifications than the insurance department. The superintendent of insurance is charged with the duty of regulating all branches of the insurance in this state except the Workmen's Compensation. "Insurance is one of the fundamental activities of the state and nation, he continued, and it has not reached its present attainments by sudden flight.

"The casualty insurance field today is probably the least stable of any of the established lines of insurance. Fire insurance has had years of experience and development and may be said to be a substantial basis. Life insurance has years of experience, based upon hundreds of thousands of lives, and may be said to be more scientifically correct than any other branch of the business today, the speaker said.

He closed by stating: "It is highly desirable that all engaged in the insurance business should ever keep in mind the best ethical principles and practices of the business."

TRIPLE SPLIT OF EUROPEAN NATIONS SEEN

Swing of Germans Towards Fascism Thought To Be Turning Point.

FIGHT OLD LAW

Hitler Sounds Change In His Speech.

BY OTTO D. TOLISCHUS.

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—A new political and economic constellation of nations, successor to the helmeted, sabre-rattling alliances which preserved the old militaristic balance of power in Europe, was foreseen today as gradually emerging from the welter and confusion of European politics.

The spectacular German swing to Fascism, the overthrow of the Austrian cabinet by similar extremist elements and the ponderous but swift-moving orientation of continental political and economic events, have thrown into sharp relief this outline of a new alignment, conceived along, radically different theories from the old secret alliances, thrown into the discard along with thrones and monarchies at the end of the World War.

Everywhere there is unrest among the masses and a growing tide of Nationalism. But while many of these peoples are blindly groping toward some unseen end, in Europe itself a well-defined "triple split" is appearing.

USE BOLSHIEVISM
In the east, Bolshevism is trying to maintain itself as a huge Russian empire at the expense of vast present human misery and mass executions.

In the west, Democracy is trying to hold its own.

Between the two, there seemingly is arising a cordon of Fascist states; welded not by military or political alliances but by a striving for a common aim. Italy, Austria, Germany, and Hungary, are waging an economic battle against Bolshevism and Socialism, and political warfare against western Democracies.

The Fascist "bloc," still in more or less of a chimerical stage, consists of the nations defeated in the World War plus those which feel themselves "cheated of victory." Hardest hit by the economic crisis now gripping the world, they feel their only hope lies in revision of the Versailles treaty and the re-allocation of war costs in a more equitable way.

In rather strenuous terms, perhaps, Adolf Hitler, expounded the revisionist theory in the supreme court at Leipzig yesterday, during the trial of three Reichswehr officers charged with high treason for alleged dissemination of Fascist propaganda.

But while the German Fascist leader used figures of speech frowned upon by Conservative elements in the government, he nevertheless put his finger forcibly on the crux of the situation. For adherence to the Stressmann policy of "patience and forbearance" will prove the best solution for Germany's troubles, there is hardly a man or woman, regardless of political affiliation or station in life, in this country today who does not believe the Versailles treaty is unfair, and places far too heavy a burden on Germany and its people for generations to come.

Fascism and Bolshevism have certain traits in common. Both are dictatorial, both believe in the economic integration of the nation and both subscribe to abolition of the classes—Bolshevism through extermination of capitalists and a dictatorship of the proletariat, and Fascism through "synthesis" of the classes, making them agents of the state. Both are sworn enemies of Democracy.

KINGSTON DRIVER SUFFERS INJURY

Miss Gale Dresbach of Kingston received slight injuries when the car she was driving skidded on the slippery road and crashed into another car driven by L. R. Price, salesman for the Yeast Foam Co. of Chicago. The accident happened at Hopetown at 9:30 a. m. on Thursday.

Miss Dresbach applied her brakes to avoid hitting a slow-moving car when the wet pavement caused her Chevrolet to skid.

MRS. BOGLE, 64, DIES SUDDENLY

Heart Disease Fatal to Woman At Home In Clinton-St At 11 A. M. Friday.

Mrs. Martha Alice Bogle, aged 64, widow of Joseph Bogle, died suddenly at her home in Clinton-st., at 11 a. m. Friday from heart disease. She was in her usual good health Friday morning and her death came suddenly and very unexpected. At the time of her death her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rayburn of Springfield, were with her.

She was a native of Virginia being born near Richmond and was the daughter of Jesse and Nancy Myers Richardson. She had been a resident of Circleville for 40 years. Her husband, Joseph Bogle, passed away Oct. 29, 1929.

She had been almost totally blind for a number of years but had been a patient sufferer. Her husband's death was a great shock to her as was also the death of her two sons, Joseph and Frederick, who died in France while serving with the American Expeditionary forces. A daughter died in infancy.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Charles Meade, Circleville; Mrs. W. S. Rayburn, Springfield, and Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell, Dayton, and brother, Fred Richardson, of Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn had come here to complete arrangements to make their home with Mrs. Bogle during the winter.

Funeral arrangements under the direction of the Albaugh Co., will be announced later.

GUNMEN WOUND STORE OWNER

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Elizabeth Koscin, 35, was shot and seriously wounded here today by two gunmen who staged a daring holdup of the restaurant owned by the woman.

Miss Mary Russo, a waitress, was choked and beaten by the robbers before they fled with an undetermined amount of loot from the cash register.

Mrs. Koscin was shot when she struggled with one of the bandits as they rifled the cash register. She was rushed to St. John's hospital where it was found the bullet had entered her body below the right shoulder.

The bandits fled from the scene on foot. Police radio squads were rushed immediately to the restaurant. They scoured the neighborhood but were unable to find any trace of the two gunmen.

Business of All Ohio Holdings Will Be Handled In Circleville.

LUTZ MANAGER

More Than 25 Employees To Be Added.

Circleville is to be the accounting center of all the telephone properties of the Diversified Investments Inc., located in central and southern Ohio. The investments company is holder of the local Citizen's Telephone Co. The announcement made Friday by Earl W. Lutz, E. Main-st., manager of the local company who will continue as supervisor of the entire department which will move here. It is expected that at least 25 new employees will be added to the office of the telephone company.

C. H. Doane, for many years auditor of the Portsmouth Telephone Co., has been chosen as head of this department and expects to move his family to this city about Nov. 1.

The auditing departments of the following companies will be located here besides the local Citizen's Telephone Company, The Buckeye Lake Home Telephone Co., of Baltimore, O., The Cambridge House Telephone Co., of Cambridge; The New Concord Telephone Co., of New Concord; The Portsmouth Telephone Co., of Portsmouth; The Greenfield Telephone Co., of Greenfield and The Clinton County Telephone Co., of Wilmington.

These telephone companies embrace 23 exchanges throughout southern Ohio, and serve more than 30,000 subscribers.

It is expected, according to Mr. Lutz, that at least a year will be required before the work of auditing the accounting centers here will be completed. It will be necessary to train a large force which will be required to handle the work.

Lutz deserves especial credit for obtaining this improvement to the city for it was the plan of the holding company to place the accounting offices in Columbus with Circleville receiving no thought at all. When the superintendent of the holding company conferred with Mr. Lutz concerning the consolidation of the accounting branches, the local man influenced the telephone company to move the offices here instead of to Columbus.

HUNT MISSING MEN IN LAKE

William McNulty, Columbus Business Man, Is Lost With Parker, War Pilot.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—An intensive search over land and water was to be started today for William Parker, a war-time pilot, and William McNulty, Columbus business man, who have been missing since 1:30 a. m., Wednesday when they took off from Cleveland airport for a "mystery" flight, presumably for Buffalo.

The hunt for the missing craft was to be concentrated over Lake Erie and between here and Millinburg, Pa., although the exact destination of Parker and McNulty is not known, it was recalled at the airport here that they headed toward Millinburg. Airport officials regarded it as possible, however, that the missing flyers may have lost their way and plunged into Lake Erie.

McNulty flew here with John Corrodi, Columbus pilot, last Tuesday. Parker replaced Corrodi at the controls when the plane hopped off on its "mystery" flight Wednesday morning. Airport authorities were puzzled over the change of pilots. McNulty had no authority to replace Corrodi.

ANNUAL DAHLIA SHOW IS SUNDAY

JACKSON DIVORCE

Charging that he has threatened to kill her on numerous occasions and that she lived in constant fear of bodily harm, Mrs. Roberta Jackson, colored, filed suit in probate court Friday against John Jackson. Both live in this city.

They were married here July 24, 1923, and the plaintiff says that in two months her husband threatened to kill her. She asks custody of two children, aged six and four years, temporary and permanent alimony and an order restraining him from disposing of property. Irvin F. Snyder represents the plaintiff.

ROTARIANS HEAR JUDGE

C. S. Younger, Head of the Ohio Insurance Department, Is Speaker.

Judge C. S. Younger, superintendent of insurance, addressed the Rotary Club at its meeting Thursday at the Boggs Hotel using as his subject, "The Relation of the Ohio Insurance Department to the Public."

Judge Younger said there is no other unit of state government nearer the people in all its many and varied ramifications than the insurance department. The superintendent of insurance is charged with the duty of regulating all branches of the insurance in this state except the Workmen's Compensation. "Insurance is one of the fundamental activities of the state and nation, he continued, and it has not reached its present attainments by sudden flight.

"The casualty insurance field today is probably the least stable of any of the established lines of insurance. Fire insurance has had years of experience and development and may be said to be a substantial basis. Life insurance has years of experience, based upon hundreds of thousands of lives, and may be said to be more scientifically correct than any other branch of the business today, the speaker said.

He closed by stating, "It is highly desirable that all engaged in the insurance business should ever keep in mind the best ethical principles and practices of the business."

HIGH FOOTBALL STAR STABBED

BRIDGEPORT, Ohio, Sept. 26.—The victim of an alleged stabbing affray, Joseph Warren, Jr., 25, colored, died early today. Authorities declare that Warren was stabbed Thursday evening, during a quarrel with his cousin, Joseph Ware, 27, also colored, over the affections of a woman. Warren was a former Bridgeport high school football star.

TRIPLE SPLIT OF EUROPEAN NATIONS SEEN

Swing of Germans Towards Fascism Thought To Be Turning Point.

FIGHT OLD LAW

Hitler Sounds Change In His Speech.

BY OTTO D. TOLISCHUS.

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—A new political and economic constellation of nations, successor to the helmeted, sabre-rattling alliances which preserved the old militaristic balance of power in Europe, was foreseen today as gradually emerging from the welter and confusion of European politics.

The spectacular German swing to Fascism, the overthrow of the Austrian cabinet by similar extremist elements and the ponderous but swift-moving orientation of continental political and economic events, have thrown into sharp relief this outline of a new alignment, conceived along radically different theories from the old secret alliances, thrown into the discard along with thrones and monarchies at the end of the World War.

Everywhere there is unrest among the masses and a growing tide of Nationalism. But while many of these peoples are blindly groping toward some unseen end, in Europe itself a well-defined "triple split" is appearing.

USE BOLSHIEVISM

In the east, Bolshevism is trying to maintain itself as a huge Russian empire at the expense of vast present human misery and mass executions.

In the west, Democracy is trying to hold its own. Between the two, there seemingly is arising a cordon of Fascist states; welded not by military or political alliances but by a striving for a common aim. Italy, Austria, Germany, and Hungary, are waging an economic battle against Bolshevism and Socialism, and political warfare against western Democracies.

The Fascist "bloc," still in more or less of a chimerical stage, consists of the nations defeated in the World War plus those which feel themselves "cheated of victory." Hardest hit by the economic crisis now gripping the world, they feel their only hope lies in revision of the Versailles treaty and the re-allocation of war costs in a more equitable way.

In rather strenuous terms, perhaps, Adolf Hitler, expounded the revisionist theory in the supreme court at Leipzig yesterday, during the trial of three Reichswehr officers charged with high treason for alleged dissemination of Fascist propaganda.

But while the German Fascist leader used figures of speech frowned upon by Conservative elements in the government, he nevertheless put his finger forcibly on the crux of the situation. For although conservative Germans feel that adherence to the Stresemann policy of "patience and forbearance" will prove the best solution for Germany's troubles, there is hardly a man or woman, regardless of political affiliation or station in life, in this country today who does not believe the Versailles treaty is unfair, and places far too heavy a burden on Germany and its people for generations to come.

Fascism and Bolshevism have certain traits in common. Both are dictatorial, both believe in the economic integration of the nation and both subscribe to abolition of the classes—Bolshevism through extermination of capitalists and a dictatorship of the proletariat, and Fascism through "synthesis" of the classes, making them agents of the state. Both are sworn enemies of Democracy.

KINGSTON DRIVER SUFFERS INJURY

Miss Gale Dresbach of Kingston received slight injuries when the car she was driving skidded on the slippery road and crashed into another car driven by L. R. Price, salesman for the Yeast Foam Co., of Chicago. The accident happened at Hopetown at 9:30 a. m. on Thursday.

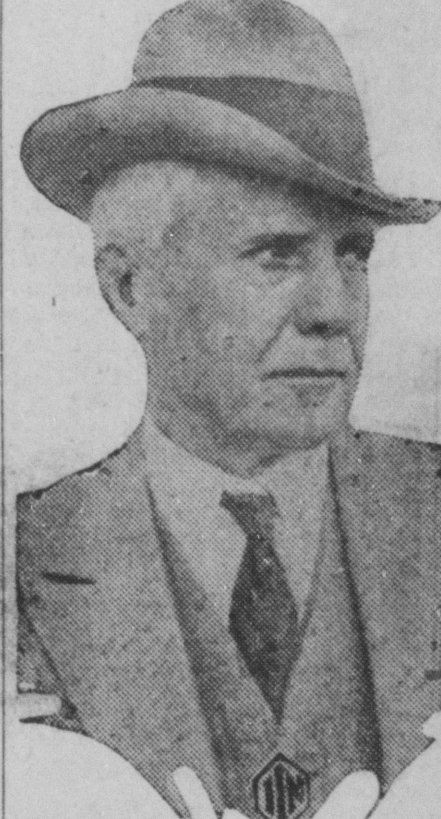

Miss Dresbach applied her brakes to avoid hitting a slow-moving car when the wet pavement caused her Chevrolet to skid.

MRS. BOGLE, 64, DIES SUDDENLY

Heart Disease Fatal to Woman At Home in Clinton-St At 11 A. M. Friday.

Mrs. Martha Alice Bogle, aged 64, widow of Joseph Bogle, died suddenly at her home in Clinton-st., at 11 a. m. Friday from heart disease. She was in her usual good health Friday morning and her death came suddenly and very unexpected. At the time of her death her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rayburn of Springfield, were with her.

She was a native of Virginia being born near Richmond and was the daughter of Jesse and Nancy Myers Richardson. She had been a resident of Circleville for 40 years. Her husband, Joseph Bogle, passed away Oct. 29, 1929.

She had been almost totally blind for a number of years but had been a patient sufferer. Her husband's death was a great shock to her as was also the death of her two sons, Joseph and Frederick, who died in France while serving with the American Expeditionary forces. A daughter died in infancy.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Charles Meade, Circleville; Mrs. W. S. Rayburn, Springfield, and Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell, Dayton, and brother, Fred Richardson, of Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn had come here to complete arrangements to make their home with Mrs. Bogle during the winter.

Funeral arrangements under the direction of the Albaugh Co., will be announced later.

GUNMEN WOUND STORE OWNER

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Elizabeth Koscin, 35, was shot and seriously wounded here today by two gunmen who staged a daring holdup of the restaurant owned by the woman.

Miss Mary Russo, a waitress, was choked and beaten by the robbers before they fled with an undetermined amount of loot from the cash register.

Mrs. Koscin was shot when she struggled with one of the bandits as they rifled the cash register. She was rushed to St. John's hospital where it was found the bullet had entered her body below the right shoulder.

The bandits fled from the scene on foot. Police radio squads were rushed immediately to the restaurant. They scoured the neighborhood but were unable to find any trace of the two gunmen.

LUTZ MANAGER

More Than 25 Employees To Be Added.

Circleville is to be the accounting center of all the telephone properties of the Diversified Investments Inc., located in central and southern Ohio. The investments company is holder of the local Citizens Telephone Co. This announcement made Friday by Earl W. Lutz, E. Main-st, manager of the local company who will continue as supervisor of the entire department which will move here. It is expected that at least 25 new employees will be added to the office of the telephone company.

C. H. Doane, for many years auditor of the Portsmouth Telephone Co., has been chosen as head of this department and expects to move his family to this city about Nov. 1.

The auditing departments of the following companies will be located here besides the local Citizens Telephone Company, The Buckeye Lake Home Telephone Co., of Baltimore, O., The Cambridge Home Telephone Co., of Cambridge; The New Concord Telephone Co., of New Concord; The Portsmouth Telephone Co., of Portsmouth; The Greenfield Telephone Co., of Greenfield and The Clinton County Telephone Co., of Wilmington.

These telephone companies embrace 23 exchanges throughout southern Ohio, and serve more than 30,000 subscribers.

It is expected, according to Mr. Lutz, that at least a year will be required before the work of grouping the accounting centers here will be completed. It will be necessary to train a large force which will be required to handle the work.

Lutz deserves especial credit for obtaining this improvement to the city for it was the plan of the holding company to place the accounting offices in Columbus with Circleville receiving no thought at all. When the superintendent of the holding company conferred with Mr. Lutz concerning the consolidation of the accounting branches, the local man influenced the telephone company to move the offices here instead of to Columbus.

BANDITS ROB TOLEDO BANK

Demand $15,000 But Cashier Hands Over $7,000; Men Follow Armored Car.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 26.—Shortly after an armored truck had delivered $15,000 in cash to the Strickney-Central branch of the Commerce Guardian Trust Savings bank here, three daring bandits held up the institution.

The robbers fled with $7,000 after John Rominski, manager of the bank, refused to heed their demands for the $15,000 which had been placed in a vault just a few minutes before the holdup.

GEIB IS WINNER OVER GILLILAND

Faces House For Right To Enter Pickaway Country Club Golf Finals.

Glen Geib, editor of the Herald, won his way into the semi-finals of the Pickaway Country Club golf tournament Thursday when he defeated Tom O. Gilliland two up and one to go in a hotly contested match.

The winner took a one hole advantage at No. 4, on the first round which he never lost. His margin at no time however was more than two holes.

Geib will play Dr. O. M. House of Williamsport in a semi-final match for the right to oppose Earl Rader in the club finals.

WORKER INJURED

Will Davis, 601 E. Mount-st, suffered a dislocated knee at 9 a. m. Friday when a sack of feed at the Eshelman Milling Co., Mill-st, where he is employed, fell on him. He was taken to the Berger hospital where he was attended by Dr. Howard Jones, and was later taken home.

Hair
that sparkles!

No one can deny the importance of having the hair arranged in the style best suited to the individual type. Much of the effect is lost, however, unless the hair is kept soft, abundant, lustrous. A million busy women and girls know the easiest way to keep the hair in perfect condition is with Danderine. The first application will show you how marvelously it removes excess oil from the hair, cleanses it, makes it sparkle with new life and lustre. It's so simple to use Danderine. NEW YORK G. O. P. WETS IN CONTROL
ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 26.—The wets were in complete control of the Republican state convention which was set to get under way at noon to adopt a platform and nominate candidates for four state offices and judge of the court of appeals.

It is certain as anything can be in politics that United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle of New York will be nominated for Governor and a plank calling for repeal of the eighteenth amendment adopted.

There was a bare possibility, however, the wets may be forced to carry their fight for a repeal plank to the convention floor, although this was discounted by some of their more optimistic leaders.

After conferring four hours, 31 leaders of both factions including 23 men and eight women, failed to reach an agreement on a wet plank.

SEDAN IS CLEW IN CRATER CASE

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A search was made today in Maine for a sedan with a Quebec license in the hope that it will lead to the finding of Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Crater, missing since August 6. Authorities received a tip concerning a car carrying a "nurse, doctor and a man and his chauffeur."

Investigation continued, also, of telephone calls made by the jurist's wife. Authorities claimed it was definitely established that Mrs. Stella Crater had talked by telephone from her New York home August 28 and 29 to Martin J. Healy, Tammany leader, indicted in the Edward case.

District Attorney Crain said he would call both Healy and former Magistrate George F. Ewald before the grand jury which is investigating the Crater disappearance.

INAUGURATE NEW PLANE SERVICE

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—Postmaster General Walter F. Brown will assist in the inauguration of the combined mail-passenger service of the national air transport between Cleveland and Chicago next Wednesday, it was announced here today.

The service between the two cities is being instituted in accordance with the postoffice department's program of combining air mail and passenger service, as authorized by the recently enacted

Watres law; according to Colonel Paul Henderson, vice president of N. A. T. two round trips daily are on the schedule for the service between Cleveland and Chicago.

National air transport, one of the oldest air mail carriers in the country, recently merged with the Stout air lines, which was the first company to operate an air passenger service.

PICKREL SAYS FREE BALLOT ENDANGERED

Candidate Scores Fight In Cincinnati, Supposed Cooper Stronghold.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 26.—"Besides revealing the brazen impudence and stupidity of the Schorr-Schneller political machine in Cincinnati and the panic of the Cooper administration over its probable loss of Hamilton-co, the Cincinnati ballot contest emphasizes the bungling of the Cooper legislature in writing an election code," William G. Pickrel, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, asserted today.

"By the frank admissions of the attorney general and secretary of state, who seek re-election with Governor M. Y. Cooper, every one should be convinced that only through the election of my associate, George White, as governor, and an intelligent legislature may the state be rid of the blunders in the Cooper election laws.

"The present governor and assembly were intrusted with the work of revising the election system and, although they have pointed to their product as an achievement, two high officials now refer apologetically to the confusion and perplexity resulting from a clumsy job.

"And the Cincinnati case discloses that even the right of a free ballot is endangered by legislative incompetency.

"Anti-gang Republicans uniting with Democrats are attempting to establish in Hamilton county the decency in government that the same coalition has created in the city of Cincinnati. Dreading the outcome of a fair and free contest, the Schorr-Schneller remnant of the iniquitous gang once led by Boss George B. Cox seized upon a technically it professed to 'see' in the Cooper legislature's new election laws to exclude the legally nominated Citizens' ticket from the ballot. If the move had succeeded the Schorr-Schneller group led by Edward D. Schorr, state commerce director and Fred Schneller, nominal successor of Boss Cox, would have had no competition and its candidates automatically would have been elected to county offices.

"When dispute over the technicality was referred to Clarence J. Brown, as secretary of state, for decision, Brown fell back upon the ruling of Gilbert Bettman, attorney general, to concede one point in the Citizens' ticket contention and leave the rest to the Ohio supreme court.

"So now we find the attorney general taking up in the highest court the battle started by the Schorr-Schneller forces with which he and Governor Cooper have cast their political fortunes in the home city of both.

"And we find that, in their alarm over the adverse effect of the litigation upon the state ticket, leaders of the state administration frantically have communicated with independent Republicans sponsoring the Citizens' ticket and suggested that the whole matter be dropped.

"The disgusted Republicans who, by alliance with the Democrats, have thrice beaten the Schorr-Schneller-Bettman-Cooper wing of the Republican party at the polls, properly have refused to drop anything they are carrying on a fight that should attract those interested in good government throughout Ohio.

"In the opinion in which he holds the Citizens' candidates are entitled to a place on the ballot as independents but denies them the right of designation as the Citizens' ticket, Secretary Brown says: 'Undoubtedly the new election code will demand interpretation by the courts, and perhaps, amendments by the Legislature for several years to come, in order that the exact meaning of each and every section will be clear to the election officials and citizens of Ohio. Many inconveniences and misunderstandings, with accompanying litigation will undoubtedly arise during the next few years.'

"And the attorney general emphasizes the intricacies and obscurities of the new election code by admitting: 'In the opinion of May 12 it was pointed out that the provisions of the election code presented some conflicts and my conclusion, reached unanimously with the Departmental Court composed of fifteen lawyers in my office, was made in an effort to glean from these conflicting provisions the real intention of the Legislature.'

"So we have two official confessions that this boasted achievement of the Cooper legislature engages the talents of fifteen lawyers on the state payroll trying to understand it and baffles the secretary of state who, although he is an election expert, looks to the courts to tell him what it is all about and to the succeeding legislatures to cure its defects. "And we are reminded that one of its serious evils revealed some months ago is a provision that seeks to impose a gag upon the free press of Ohio by making newspapers subject to penalties if they exercise their right to criticize candidates for political office and then refuse to apologize at the demand of displeased candidates."

LEARN LOSER NOW A WINNER

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 26.—Due to an error, Upton Sinclair, socialist nominee for the Governor of California, was notified that he had received the Republican nomination for governor, it was revealed here today.

Sinclair accepted the nomination, saying in a letter to the secretary of the state:

"It is a surprise to me, because I have been so foolish as to believe the newspapers, and so I had the impression that the Republican nomination had been won by Mr. Rolph."

Officials said the matter would be straightened out, so that Sinclair and Rolph would represent their respective parties in the November gubernatorial elections.

TOUGH BOY'S DOG BITES SIX KIDS

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 26.—Classmates defied 10-year-old James Cleveland's authority as school "tough" and today six of them are suffering from dog bites as a result.

Setting out to "fix" them, James entered the fifth grade classroom yesterday leading his dog.

"Sit 'em," he said. The dog obeyed, with jaws snapping. The children scrambled for safety, but six were bitten, one girl so severely she was taken to a hospital.

YOUNG FASCIST OPPONENT TRIED

BRUSSELS, Sept. 26.—Public feeling ran high today as Fernando De Rosa, 22-year-old Italian anti-Fascist, went on trial for his attempt to assassinate Crown Prince Umberto of Italy.

The prisoner was calm when he was taken before the bar of justice and proudly boasted of his act. "I take full responsibility for my act, which was an attempt to free the Italian people from tyranny."

De Rosa, a youthful political zealot who was a student at the Sorbonne, in Paris, shot at Crown Prince Umberto as the latter was laying a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier here a short time after announcement of his engagement to the former Princess Marie Jose of Belgium, now Crown Princess of Italy.

The would-be assassin's shot went wild, and he was set upon by other spectators and police before he could fire again. He was badly hurt before police managed to tear him away from the angry crowd and rush him to jail.

1,000 HOMELESS AFTER TREMBLER

MOSCOW, Sept. 26.—Relief was pushed today in the area around Stalinbad, Turkestan, where an earthquake devastated several villages and left more than 1,000 families homeless.

According to meagre information from the stricken area, 175 persons were killed by the trembler and 300 were injured.

Later information forwarded by relief workers said that the death toll, from first indications, may be doubled. Property damage everywhere was extensive.

Spirits

THE world's leading spiritualists are determined to have spiritualism taken seriously. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, in his well-known book, "The History of Spiritualism," leaves various requests for spirit research. His famous collaborator, Sir Oliver Lodge, who is both physicist and spiritualist, has started broadcasting to spread his faith.

Sir Oliver commands a more serious hearing than Sir Arthur did, because he has a world-wide reputation as a material scientist. He says he and his co-workers are now trying to extend scientific methods "into another dimension, breaking through the region of spirits as through a trap door."

He thinks he has evidence that human beings survive death, that the living are in touch with the departed, that "death is an incident in life rather than a termination of it." He holds that "we are incarnations of spirit here and now; spiritual beings in contact with the physical world," always remaining spirits no matter on what plane we may exist.

Many have their doubts. Some are contemptuous. But is it rash for anyone to say flatly that this is all nonsense, impossible of proof?

If there is a spirit world, if man is immortal, and if that can be proved, nothing is more important for scientists to work at.

If Sir Oliver really knows what he is about, his work means far more to mankind than Prof. Einstein's.

Marion Talley leaves the farm and returns to opera, where she can sing notes instead of signing them.

Counter-Revolution

MOSCOW has sprung a surprise. Just as things seemed to be going pretty well for the Communist regime, announcement was made of a counter-revolution organized on a vast scale.

It is an interesting fact that this movement is based not on what we often term "human rights," such as "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," but on property rights. Its mainpursing is economic.

Its prime movers are the big fish and vegetable men and other captains of the food industries.

Here is the enemy, "capitalism," rearing its hydra head, in the stronghold of Socialism.

The natural response is, "Off with its head." There is a death penalty in Russia for such rebellion. The Communists higher up may be expected now to "purify" their Communist state, as Robespierre, a century and a half ago, purified the French revolution.

Which reminds us that Robespierre himself was purified in turn by having his own clever head topped off.

We shall see much more of interest in Russia, where the biggest of governmental dramas is being staged.

Chance for Couple

THE Raskob family denies the report that Father Raskob is going to settle $2,000,000 on John Jr. and his bride. This is obviously good sense.

No young couple should start their marital career with such a handicap as $2,000,000. That would be throwing a golden key wrench into the machinery of married life. Standards and ideals would be on a false basis to begin with. The principle of the new partnership would be destroyed.

Of the fun and enjoyment of learning many things they ought to be deprived. They would be dependent, and the way would be prepared for the dependency of their children after their death.

Millions of millions of young people are being brought up to work like slaves or slaves, from paternal government to slaves to the unemployed, only to be discarded as soon as they are no longer useful.

It is assumed that the young Raskobs will at least go through the motions of living. And making a living is for normal people, not for the rich.

That is the common rule, which comes with it, and that is the way of life.

This particular family seems more fortunate than most. Young Raskob, instead of being a New York debutante, is a newspaperman. She will know how to look after his business interests.

There was one little ship, though. It is reported that John gave the girl a five-carat diamond engagement ring a regular blunder. A Rockefeller would have held it down to about two carats.

WILLING NURSEMAIDS

The SEA BRIDE

By BEN AMES WILLIAMS

THE ROMANCE OF AN EVENTFUL WHALING CRUISE

CHAPTER XLIII.

DAN'L met Faith's eyes and tried to look her down. Mauger had slipped away; old Tichel and Willis Cox and Brander were standing by.

"You take his place if I choose," Faith repeated.

Dan'l looked from her to the officers.

There was a weakness in Dan'l's villainy. He could destroy, he could undermine trust, seduce a boy, kill honor; but he lacked constructive ability. He had known for months that this moment must come—this moment when Noll should be gone, and the ship and all the treasures aboard her should lie ready to his hand.

Yet he had made no plan for this crisis; he did not know what he meant to do.

Even now he might have won by open battle. Old Tichel was certainly with him; perhaps Willis, too, and Roy, and many of the men. A blow, a fight, and the day might have been his.

But Dan'l was never a hand for strife where guile might do as well; he was not by nature a man of battle. Also, Faith was within his reach now. Noll was gone; there was no barrier between them, no need not anger her, so long as there was a chance to win by gentler ways. He nodded in abrupt assent.

"All right," he said. "You were Noll's wife; your interest is a fair one. I'll work with you, Faith."

Faith was content with that.

"We'll get the Sally away," she said.

Dan'l smiled.

"Get out a kedge; we'll try to warp her off when the tide comes in."

He chuckled.

"Oh, yes," he said. "We'll try."

"Do," said Faith, and she turned and went below.

She went below, went a little for pity of old Noll, and then dried her eyes and tried to get her heart back before her—to bring to her a happy home.

It was possible when the Sally struck and this was fortunate in some measure because the eddies waters left her free of the rollers and she was able to turn her head and look back over her shoulder.

There was a great sea on, and the ship was rolling. At the back of the ship the men could see the lights of the city and the harbor.

They were about the harbor and the city, and the lights of the city and the harbor were visible.

They were about the harbor and the city, and the lights of the city and the harbor were visible.

They were about the harbor and the city, and the lights of the city and the harbor were visible.

They were about the harbor and the city, and the lights of the city and the harbor were visible.

They were about the harbor and the city, and the lights of the city and the harbor were visible.

They were about the harbor and the city, and the lights of the city and the harbor were visible.

They were about the harbor and the city, and the lights of the city and the harbor were visible.

on the next full. We'll float her, one time or another."

Dan'l chuckled.

"An easterly wind will drive her high and dry, 'fore then."

Faith's eyes blazed.

"I tell you, Dan'l, we stick with the Sally; and we get her safe away. Are you afraid to stick?"

He laughed outright, pleasantly.

"Fshaw, Faith, you know I'm not afraid."

He could be likable when he tried; she liked him, faintly, at that moment. She gripped his hand.

"Good, Dan'l! We'll manage it, in the end."

So they settled for the waiting, and Dan'l put the men to work repairing the harm the storm had done the Sally. Her rigging was there. She had lost some canvas, and Willis Cox's boat had been carried away. They wove new rigging, spread new sails, replaced Willis' boat with one of the spares. There was work for all hands for a month to put the vessel in shape again.

There was unrest; the men felt approaching the possible liberation from the ship's discipline when they should abandon the Sally. They remembered the ambergris beneath the cabin. There was a fortune there. They could take no oil with them, but they could take that, when the time should come to leave the ship. There was plenty of room in one boat for it, and for half a dozen men besides.

They fretted at the waiting, called it hopeless, as Dan'l did. The barrier between officers and men was lowered, more than one of the men spoke to Brander of the am-

Brander was afire with joy at the new hope that was awakening in him—afire with a vision of her. He fought against this, held himself in check, and she saw only that he was morose and still and avoided her eye.

The high tides of the new moon failed to float them, and there was growing forward, Dan'l said openly, that he believed they would never go free. The men heard, and the superstitions of the sea began to play about the lo's eye.

Know How to Sleep for Health

Thorough Quiet and Darkness Are Essential to Sound Rest, Says Authority.

By R. S. COPELAND, M. D.
U. S. Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

WE derive all knowledge from the five senses, seeing, hearing, smelling, tasting and feeling. Each of these special functions depends upon a delicate and finely adjusted mechanism. Overuse will damage or destroy it. Regular rest and sleep are essential to its normal activity.

Sleep is a great mystery. We know that it is a degree of unconsciousness, but no one has ever solved the problem of exactly what it is. Brain and nerves, when tired and worn, are recreated in sleep.

Prolonged sleeplessness in the human being damages the brain and nervous system most, but other serious bodily changes occur also. The body temperature falls, there are degenerative changes in the fatty tissues and other serious effects are felt.

Numerous experiments on animals have established the fact that loss of sleep is far more dangerous to life than starvation. A sleepless animal at the end of three or four days is as miserable as a starved one at the end of ten or fifteen days.

It is very important to know how to sleep. To have satisfying and refreshing sleep one must have the right conditions. Quietness and freedom from light are absolutely essential to sound sleep. Even a ray of light may send its disturbing message to the brain. The brain is not at rest if any one of the special organs is working.

Probably you have often been awakened by the sharp blast of an automobile horn, or a disagreeable smell floating in through an open window or by a sudden bright light shining. If any of these annoying things keep you up, you are not getting enough sleep.

Even though you sleep through any one of these disturbances, the nervous system must be overworked. The quality of sleep is changed. It is much less restful and restorative than if the sleeper had none of these disturbing factors.

A nervous person, or one who is ill or recovering from an illness should have sleeping quarters where stillness and darkness reign. Even a night lamp is bad for profound and restful sleep. I know of a friend living in the city, where there is much light, who always has a black handkerchief at hand to place over the eyes on going to sleep. This is a very good idea for it makes for sound rest.

Very often sleeplessness comes from irritation of some sort. Many persons cannot get anything just before sleeping. Banish worry if you would sleep well. One's mental state has much to do with this business of sleeping, and why worry anyway?

The vigor, efficiency and length of days are promoted by giving the special sense organs time to do during the hours of sleep. That is why care must be taken to provide conditions favorable to sleep.

Fatigue is Nature's warning. We should heed that warning by having the right amount and proper degree of sleep.

Spirits

THE world's leading spiritualists are determined to have spiritualism taken seriously. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, in his will, leaves various bequests for spirit research. His famous collaborator, Sir Oliver Lodge, who is both physicist and spiritualist, has started broadcasting to spread his faith.

Sir Oliver commands a more serious hearing than Sir Arthur did, because he has a world-wide reputation as a material scientist. He says he and his co-workers are now trying to extend scientific methods "into another dimension, breaking through the region of spirits as through a trap door."

He thinks he has evidence that human beings survive death, that the living are in touch with the departed, that "death is an incident in life rather than a termination of it." He holds that "we are incarnations of spirit here and now, spiritual beings in contact with the physical world," always remaining spirits no matter on what plane we may exist.

Many have their doubts. Some are contemptuous. But is it rash for anyone to say flatly that this is all nonsense, impossible of proof. If there is a spirit world, if man is immortal, and if that can be proved, nothing is more important for scientists to work at.

If Sir Oliver really knows what he is about, his work means far more to mankind than Prof. Einstein's.

Marion Talley leaves the farm and returns to opera, where she can sing notes instead of signing them.

Counter-Revolution

MOSCOW has sprung a surprise. Just as things seemed to be going pretty well for the Communist regime, announcement was made of a counter-revolution organized on a vast scale.

It is an interesting fact that this movement is based not on what we often term "human rights," such as "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," but on property rights. Its mainpring is economic. Its prime movers are the big fish and vegetable men and other captains of the food industries.

Here is the enemy, "capitalism," rearing its hydra head, in the stronghold of Socialism.

The natural response is, "Off with its head." There is a death penalty in Russia for such rebellion. The Communists higher up may be expected now to "purify" their Communist state, as Robespierre, a century and a half ago, purified the French revolution.

Which reminds us that Robespierre himself was purified in turn by having his own clever head lopped off.

We shall see much more of interest in Russia, where the biggest of governmental dramas is being staged.

Chance for Couple

THE Raskob family denies the report that Father Raskob is going to settle $2,000,000 on John Jr. and his bride. This is obviously good sense.

No young couple should start their marital career with such a handicap as $2,000,000. That would be throwing a golden monkey wrench into the machinery of married life. Standards and ideals would be on a false basis to begin with. The principals of the new partnership would be deprived of the fun and experience of learning many things that ought to be learned. They would be dependents, and the way would be prepared for the dependency of their children after them—if anything should be left to depend on. Millions from millionaire dads work like dollars or shillings from paternal governments as doles to the unemployed, only more so. They encourage idleness and sap stamina.

It is assumed then, that the young Raskobs will at least go through the motions of making a living. And making a living is, for normal people, most of life. That is, the earning, and what comes with it and out of it.

This particular union seems the more promising because young Raskob, instead of picking a Newport debutante, picked a stenographer. She will know how to look after his business interests.

There was one little slip, though. It is reported that John gave the girl a five-carat diamond engagement ring, a regular blinder. A Rockefeller would have held it down to about two carats.

WILLING NURSEMAIDS

"The SEA BRIDE"

By BEN AMES WILLIAMS

CHAPTER XLIII.

DAN'L met Faith's eyes and tried to look her down. Mauger had slipped away; old Tichel and Willis Cox and Brander were standing by.

"You take his place if I choose," Faith repeated.

Dan'l looked from her to the officers. "There was a weakness in Dan'l's villainy. He could destroy, he could undermine trust, seduce a boy, kill honor; but he lacked constructive ability. He had known for months that this moment must come—this moment when Noll should be gone, and the ship and all the treasures aboard her should be ready to his hand. Yet he had made no plan for this crisis; he did not know what he meant to do.

Even now he might have won by open battle. Old Tichel was certainly with him; perhaps Willis, too, and Roy, and many of the men. A blow, a fight, and the day might have been his.

But Dan'l was never a hand for strife where guile might do as well; he was not by nature a man of battle. Also, Faith was within his reach now. Noll was gone; there was no barrier between them; he need not anger her, so long as there was a chance to win by gentler ways. He nodded in abrupt assent.

"All right," he said. "You were Noll's wife; your interest is a fair one. I'll work with you, Faith."

Faith was content with that. "We'll get the Sally away," she said.

Dan'l smiled. "How?"

"Get out a kedge; we'll try to warp her off when the tide comes in."

"Oh, yes! We'll try."

"Do," said Faith; and she turned and went below."

She went below, wept a little for pity of old Noll, and then dried her eyes and strengthened her heart the task before her—to bring Noll's ship safely home.

It was mid-tide when the Sally struck and this was fortunate in some measure, because the ebbing waters left her free of the rollers that might have driven her hard and fast upon the sand. They broke against her stern, but with no great force behind them. At the slack of the ebb the men could wade about her bows to their waists in the water. They got the kedge out astern and carried a whale-line about the capstan; and when the tide came quietly in again, they waited for the flood, then strove at the bars to warp her free.

When she did not stir, though the men toiled till their veins were like to burst, some cursed despairingly; but Faith did not despair, nor Dan'l. Dan'l was quiet, watching, smiling at his thoughts. He let Faith have her way.

Before the next tide, they had rigged the cutting-in tackle to give a stouter pull at the kedge; but this time the whale-line parted and lashed about astern and more than one man was struck and bruised.

"You see, we're here to stay," Dan'l said. "Best thing is to lower and make for the nearest port."

"Leave the ship?" Faith asked. "Yes. What else?"

"No. We'll not leave her."

He smiled. "What then?"

"It's a week past full moon," she said. "There'll be higher tides on the new moon, and still higher."

You can find plenty of water goods at new low prices at CADDY MILLER'S HAT SHOP

on the next full. We'll float her one time or another."

Dan'l chuckled. "An easterly wind will drive her high and dry, 'fore then."

Faith's eyes blazed. "I tell you, Dan'l, we stick with the Sally; and we get her safe away. Are you afraid to stick?"

He laughed outright, pleasantly. "Behave, Faith, you know I'm not afraid."

He could be likable when he tried; she liked him, faintly, in that moment. She gripped his hand.

"Good, Dan'l! We'll manage it, in the end."

So they settled for the waiting, and Dan'l put the men to work repairing the harm the storm had done the Sally. Her rigging was strained, it had parted here and there. She had lost some canvas. Willis Cox's boat had been carried away. They wove new rigging, spread new sails, replaced Willis' boat with one of the spares. There was work for all hands for a month to put the vessel in shape again.

There was unrest; the men felt approaching the possible liberation from the ship's discipline when they should abandon the Sally. They remembered the ambergris beneath the cabin. There was a fortune there. They could take no oil with them, but they could take that, when the time should come to leave the ship. There was plenty of room in one boat for it and for half a dozen men besides.

They fretted at the waiting, called it hopeless, as Dan'l did. The barrier between officers and men was lowered, more than one of the men spoke to Brander of the am bergris. Did he claim it for his own?

Faith one day heard a man talking to Brander amidships. She caught only a word or two, but one of these words was "gris."

She saw that the man was asking Brander a question; she saw that on Brander's answer the man grinned with greed in his eyes, and turned away to whisper to two of his fellows.

She wondered what Brander had said to him, why Brander had not silenced the man. And she watched Brander the closer, her heart sickening with a fear she would not name.

bergris. Did he claim it for his own?

Faith one day heard a man talking to Brander amidships. She caught only a word or two, but one of these words was "gris."

She saw that the man was asking Brander a question; she saw that on Brander's answer the man grinned with greed in his eyes, and turned away to whisper to two of his fellows.

She wondered what Brander had said to him, why Brander had not silenced the man. And she watched Brander the closer, her heart sickening with a fear she would not name.

AID LAUDS PRESIDENT

Stimson Says Hoover Not Only Man Who Has Not Followed Promises.

CONVENTION HALL, ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 26.—President Hoover's administration of the affairs of the national government was lauded to the skies by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson in his address as temporary chairman of the Republican state convention which opened here today.

Colonel Stimson declared that the economic depression had afforded the American people an excellent opportunity to size up the ability of the president to cope with big and difficult problems.

He asserted that the president not only had admirably handled the affairs of the National government despite the depression but had carried out 34 of his 35 campaign pledges.

"That is the best record of effective official leadership that I have witnessed in my 40 years observation of politics," Colonel Stimson declared.

He said that history has shown that when the Democratic party met a cycle of adversity "it has shown a tendency to lose its head where the Republican party has not."

Stimson made four chief points in praising President Hoover's administration.

First, that no other president in recent years "if at any time" has carried out his campaign pledges.

Second, that this was accomplished in the face of the economic depression.

Third, that it was done despite the fact that Hoover did not have complete cooperation of his own party in the senate.

Fourth, that Hoover's administration will be of increasing benefit to the public.

TAXI MAN SEES MAN SHOT DEAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Business was not so good with taxicab driver Joseph Perrone at Third Avenue and Prospect Avenue, Brooklyn, last night and he was just starting to cruise around looking for a fare when two men whistled at him. The men climbed in and one of them ordered him to drive to Barren Island.

At the island the man who gave the directions stopped the car and the two men had not walked more than ten feet when one pulled out a gun and shot the other ten times. The gunman then forced Perrone to strip away the victim's clothes and assist him in throwing the body into Jamaica bay. The killer—the man who had told where to drive—disappeared in the darkness and the taxicab driver immediately called police.

Two officers soon arrived and pulled the man's body from the water. His clothing was not found.

The dead man was bald, weighed 150 pounds and eight upper teeth were crowned with gold. Police were to question Perrone further today.

TAILORS STRIKE

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A general strike of women's tailors and custom dressmakers, employed in 300 Fifth Avenue shops, was to go into effect today. The strikers ask a weekly wage increase of $3. Society leaders and stage stars were to be appealed to by the strikers to back them in their demands.

AID LAUDS PRESIDENT

Stimson Says Hoover Not Only Man Who Has Not Followed Promises.

CONVENTION HALL, ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 26.—President Hoover's administration of the affairs of the national government was lauded to the skies by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson in his address as temporary chairman of the Republican state convention which opened here today.

Colonel Stimson declared that the economic depression had afforded the American people an excellent opportunity to size up the ability of the president to cope with big and difficult problems.

He asserted that the president not only had admirably handled the affairs of the National government despite the depression but had carried out 34 of his 35 campaign pledges.

"That is the best record of effective official leadership that I have witnessed in my 40 years observation of politics," Colonel Stimson declared.

He said that history has shown that when the Democratic party met a cycle of adversity "it has shown a tendency to lose its head where the Republican party has not."

Stimson made four chief points in praising President Hoover's administration.

First, that no other president in recent years "if at any time" has carried out his campaign pledges.

Second, that this was accomplished in the face of the economic depression.

Third, that it was done despite the fact that Hoover did not have complete cooperation of his own party in the senate.

Fourth, that Hoover's accomplishment will be of increasing benefit to the public.

TAXI MAN SEES MAN SHOT DEAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Business was not so good with taxicab driver Joseph Perrone at Third Avenue and Prospect Avenue, Brooklyn, last night and he was just starting to cruise around looking for a fare when two men whistled at him. The men climbed in and one of them ordered him to drive to Barren Island.

At the island the man who gave the directions stopped the car and the two men had not walked more than ten feet when one pulled out a gun and shot the other ten times. The gunman then forced Perrone to strip away the victim's clothes and assist him in throwing the body into Jamaica bay. The killer—the man who had told where to drive—disappeared in the darkness and the taxicab driver immediately called police.

Two officers soon arrived and pulled the man's body from the water. His clothing was not found.

The dead man was bald, weighed 150 pounds and eight upper teeth were crowned with gold. Police were to question Perrone further today.

TAILORS STRIKE

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A general strike of women's tailors and custom dressmakers, employed in 300 Fifth Avenue shops, was to go into effect today. The strikers ask a weekly wage increase of $3. Society leaders and stage stars were to be appealed to by the strikers to back them in their demands.

BADGER HOPES ON UP-GRADE

Milt Gantenbein, New Captain, Instills Fighting Spirit Into Wisconsin.

BY LEO FISCHER.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 25.—What about Wisconsin? Even up here they're doubtful over the answer.

Milt Gantenbein, peppy Badger captain, who has instilled a new spirit in the team, gave us a reply that's about as good as any says he:

"I'm not making any rash statements, but I know we won't play any four games in a row this year without making a point. I think we'll give 'em a surprise."

Which seems to be as far a rating for Wisconsin as anyone could supply at this early date. On paper, the Badgers don't look any too much like world-beaters, but everyone—including the coaching staff—feels quite optimistic and perhaps they may be right. At any rate, they haven't any of the supreme over-confidence that was in evidence at this time last year, a feeling that quickly vanished when the eleven fell with a terrible thud as soon as the conference race began.

Much of Wisconsin's prospects depend on the line, where Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite is faced with the necessity of developing a couple of first-string guards and a whole flock of capable reserves. His back-field stacks up pretty well.

The Badger coach is well fortified at the ends, where Capt. Gantenbein and George Casey, two veterans, will start their third season on the varsity.

Harold Smith, 185-pounds and Milo Lubratovich, 225-pounds, letter-winners last year, naturally lead in the battle for tackle berths.

Coach Thistlethwaite is completely up against it when he starts looking for guards. About

National Race May End Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—One of the most feverish races in the history of the National League was scheduled to pass into the archives today. If the St. Louis Cardinals win from the Pittsburgh Pirates this afternoon they will wrap up the old bunting and they virtually clinched the flag yesterday by overthrowing the Bucs 9 to 0.

The best the Chicago Cubs can do now, even though St. Louis should do its worst, is to tie the Redbirds. If the Cards lose all of the three remaining games while the Bruins snatch all of their three to play, it would be even-Steven. All of which reminds us of an old time song entitled: "I was On-ly Dreaming—Just Dream-ing."

Some high class baseball was promised in the world's series by the Athletics and Cardinals' performances yesterday. The Cards' shutout victory of the Pirates climaxed some nice hurling by Burleigh Grimes, who gave only seven hits, while his teammates drove Ray Kremer to the porcelain and shellacked his successor, Spencer.

The A's lowered away the Yankees 13 to 3 in a skirmish cut short in the sixth by rain. The champions knocked out Charlie Ruffing and hit Johnson freely.

Al Simmons got two safeties and approached within two points of Lou Gehrig for the American League sock title. Gehrig, however, whaled a homer, his 41st of the year, and brought his runs driven in total up to 173, only two short of the former record for the majors which he made in 1927 and which Hack Wilson recently bettered.

Joe McCarthy got mad and quit the Cubs in a rage, so Rogers Hornsby directed the Bruins as they won 4 to 3 from Cincinnati. The Reds got three homers and started to walk off with the game but Hornsby popped his head out of the dugout and yelled to Pat Malone to please save the boys and Pat did, striking out two punch hitters in the ninth. The Cubs play the Reds again today.

Liska was not so good but staggered through to a 3 to 2 win for the Senators over the Ruggies of Boston.

Standings this morning were:

St. Louis . . . 90 61 .596
Chicago . . . 87 64 .576

INDIANA READY FOR MIAMI 'U'

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 26.—With all stage props in place, everything is in readiness for the opening of the Indiana university football schedule here tomorrow afternoon with Miami university of Oxford, O. The game will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

In their last practice before the contest, Crimson ball carriers and their defensive linemen assembled this afternoon, at three o'clock and went through a light drill, kicking, passing, and running through signals made up the short session. After the Indiana team left Memorial stadium, Miami's eleven trotted out for a short practice drill. Forty members were in the Big Red squad.

Ohio conference teams have always been tough opponents for those of the western conference. With this thought in mind, Coach Pat Page will use everything at his command to send the Buckeye team home with a loss. Several positions are still in doubt in the starting lineup but for the most part the players to face Miami have been chosen. The center position has two able candidates in Baxter and Mankowski, both seniors this season. At quarterback the Indiana eleven has Ashby and Brubaker, also seniors, who are capable of starting the game. Brubaker has the slight advantage.

In the backfield Hughes at fullback and Ross at one of the half-back positions are sure starters. The other post has two able players in Dauer and Koenig. The first has a heavy punch while the latter is the speed merchant of the squad. Either of the players are expected to show up well. It is expected that Richardson will take the place at left end since Jack Hansen submitted to an operation for appendicitis last Sunday.

Miami has a veteran team and should show Indiana plenty of fight. The team as a whole is not heavy but it has experience and boasts a bag of tricks that should make an opponent worry.

FLYERS FACE TOUGH SKED

Dayton Team Has Many Veteran Backs; Prospects For Winner Are Good.

By Joseph K. Rukensbrod.
DAYTON, O., Sept. 26.—Coach Harry Bauman is preparing his University of Dayton Flyers for one of the toughest football schedules in the school's history. A squad of 40 men, including a good number of veterans and 11 letter-men, are aiding the coaching staff in producing one of Dayton's best teams, however.

Some of the most promising players for the 1930 edition of the Flyers have been drafted from last year's freshman squad. Outstanding among the second-year men is Harold Fearn, halfback star, who has been on the hospital list for several days with an injured knee. He is expected to be ready for service in the game with Ohio Northern here tonight when the lid is lifted, though.

Dayton's lettermen are Jordan, quarterback; Zieroff, Duchak and Cabrini, halfbacks; Marshall, fullback; Flanagan and Colan, ends; Busciglio, Jira and Smythe, guards; and Sackwitz, center.

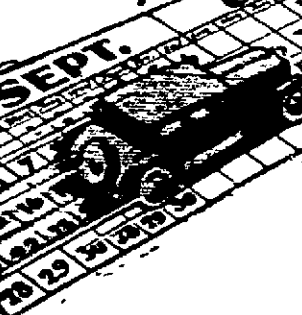

Dayton has all the promise of being better this year than it was in 1929 when the Flyers won only four games. They defeated Indiana Central Normal, Wilmington, Transylvania, and Xavier, losing to Detroit, Boston College, Oglethorpe, Quantico Marines and Wittenberg.

Five night games are on the 1930 card for Dayton.

The probable starting lineup against the Ohio Northern Polar Bears is Colan and Brandel, ends; Zieroff and Meyer, tackles; Smythe and Jira, guards; Sackwitz, center; Cabrini, quarterback; Fearn and Brisse, halfbacks, and "Jumpy" Marshall, fullback.

Martin Schmur, the "flying Dutchman," who starred with the frosh last year, has returned but he probably will not begin the tilt with Northern. He is expected to see service, though. Schmur was a late arrival and is not yet in the best of condition.

Five night games are on the 1930 card for Dayton.

The probable starting lineup against the Ohio Northern Polar Bears is Colan and Brandel, ends; Zierolf and Meyer, tackles; Smythe and Jira, guards; Sackwitz, center; Cabrinnha, quarterback; Fearn and Brisse, halfbacks, and "Jumpy" Marshall, fullback.

Martin Schmur, the "flying Dutchman," who starred with the frosh last year, has returned but he probable will not begin the tilt with Northern. He is expected to see service, though. Schmur was a late arrival and is not yet in the best of condition.

SHARKEY BOUT IS POSTPONED

Ballyhooed Brawl Looks Like 'White Elephant' on Hands of Garden Crew.

By James L. Kilgallen
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—What was to have been a big outdoor "shot"—that ballyhooed brawl between Jack Sharkey and Victorio Campolo—now threatens to be an indoor financial "flop".

For good and sufficient reasons, this battle of "what of it?" has been yanked out of the vast expanses of the Yankee Stadium and chucked into the smaller confines of Madison Square Garden where it will be staged on the night of October 3.

The event was to have been held last night in the stadium, which can house 80,000 people. But a drizzle of rain and an almost total absence of customers combined to effect a postponement. It was at first announced that the affair would go over until tonight but after a two-hour conference between those financial ally interested it was deemed advisable to put the show on at the Garden, which seats 22,000.

With Sharkey guaranteed $100,000 and Campolo $75,000, to say nothing of additional expenses, it would require the brain of an Aristotle to figure how the Madison Square Garden corporation can keep out of "the red" on this white elephant they have on their hands.

SHARKEY BOUT IS POSTPONED

Ballyhooed Brawl Looks Like 'White Elephant' on Hands of Garden Crew.

By James L. Kilgallen
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—What was to have been a big outdoor "shot"—that ballyhooed brawl between Jack Sharkey and Victorio Campolo—now threatens to be an indoor financial "flop".

For good and sufficient reasons, this battle of "what of it?" has been yanked out of the vast expanses of the Yankee Stadium and chucked into the smaller confines of Madison Square Garden where it will be staged on the night of October 3.

The event was to have been held last night in the stadium, which can house 80,000 people. But a drizzle of rain and an almost total absence of customers combined to effect a postponement. It was at first announced that the affair would go over until tonight but after a two-hour conference between those financial ally interested it was deemed advisable to put the show on at the Garden, which seats 22,000.

With Sharkey guaranteed $100,000 and Campolo $75,000, to say nothing of additional expenses, it would require the brain of an Aristotle to figure how the Madison Square Garden corporation can keep out of "the red" on this white elephant they have on their hands.

Mrs. Lucy Price Again Heads County W. C. T. U.

A most inspiring and well attended county meeting of the Pickaway Women's Christian Temperance Union was held Thursday in the United Brethren Church, this city. The county president, Mrs. Lucy B. Price, was the presiding officer for the day and she opened the meeting with the song, "America."

Mrs. Mary E. Rife of the Circleville Union had charge of the devotionals which she concluded with the song "Lead On, Oh King Eternal." The roll call of the Unions showed ten Unions present with 51 members at the opening of the session. A yearly report of the year's work was read by the president, which was followed by the treasurer's annual report.

Mrs. John Wright of Columbus, state speaker for the day, and Mrs. Orr, president of Fairfield-co. were introduced and welcomed. Both responded with pleasing speeches. The annual election of County officers followed in charge of Mrs. Price. While the tellers were out counting the ballots the following directors of departments gave their annual reports;

Anti-Narcotics . . . Mrs. Mary A. Dunlap;

Child Welfare Miss Mary Harpster;
Christian Citizenship . . . Mrs. May Crites;
Contests . . . Mrs. Abbie Gusman.
Exhibits and Fair . . . Mrs. Mincola Spangler.

The report of the election of the county officers for the ensuing year was as follows: county president, Mrs. Lucy B. Price; vice-president, Mrs. Mary Porter; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Adda Prushing; recording - secretary, Mrs. Bessie Long; treasurer, Mrs. Abbie Gusman.

After the appointment of committees and the noontide prayer and song the session adjourned. All went to the Community House where a delicious chicken dinner was served to them by the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. During the noon executive meeting the directors of departments were named and other important business transacted.

The afternoon session opened with a song service led by Mrs. Val Valentine accompanied by Mrs. Meta Hay, county pianist.

The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Abbie Gusman. After the reading of the minutes of the morning session, the directors of the departments, which were chosen at the executive meeting, were named:

Anti-Narcotic, Mrs. Mary Dunlap; Child Welfare, Mary Harpster; Christian Citizenship, Mrs. May Crites; Contests, Mrs. Abbie Gusman; Sabbath Observance, Mrs. Mary Gray; Exhibits and Fairs, Mrs. Spangler; Flower Mission, Mrs. Mary Dunlap; Health, Mrs. Wilda Carpenter; Institutes, Central Committee; Legislation, Miss Florence Teegardin; Motion Picture, Mrs. Julia Weaver; Parliamentary Usage, Mrs. John Dunlap; Peace, Mrs. Florence Seaborn; Evangelistic, Mrs. Abbie Gusman; Publicity, Mrs. Delphine Cromley; S. T. L. Mrs. Katherine Reber; Social Morality, Mrs. Van Vickle; Soldiers and Sailors, Mrs. Mary Rife; Sunday School, Mrs. Pearl Adkins; Temperance and Missions, Mrs. Alice Rader, Union Signal Promoter, Mrs. Lucy Cline. Non Alcoholic Products, Mrs. Brundage; L. T. L. Lic. Mrs. Anna Boots.

Mrs. Meta Hay and Mrs. Val Valentine were named as county pianist and county-musical director. Miss Mary Porter had charge of a very impressive memorial service for the 11 who have passed away during the year. In conclusion Mrs. Myrtle Noggle and Mrs. Ruth Reid sang "Lead Kindly Light."

Mrs. John Wright was then presented and gave a very stirring and earnest address. She stressed the importance of the ballot to the dry cause. Only through the womanhood of this nation can the good work go on. She touched upon the political situation and surely showed that she had put much time and thought upon it. She said: "Why are the wets so anxious to remove the 18th amendment if more intoxicating liquors are being used now. Our government was too deeply bought with blood-shed and mother's tears to allow it to be broken down. We must be loyal and go forward."

Mrs. Mary E. Dunlap gave her report on Flower Mission and Mrs. Julia Weaver upon Motion Pictures.

Noah G. Spangler gave a few remarks, which were forceful and very much to the point. He also stressed the importance of voting and for all dry women to be loyal to the cause. A pleasing vocal duet was then given by Mrs. Noggle and Mrs. Reid, who were accompanied by Miss Grimes.

The final reports of directors of departments followed; Publicity, Mrs. Long; Soldiers and sailor, Mrs. Mary E. Rife; Temperance and Missions, Mrs. Alice Rader; Union Signal, Mrs. Lillie Brinker; Evangelism, Mrs. Gusman.

The final address of the afternoon was given by Rev. W. F. Rutherford, pastor of the U. B. Church. He gave a splendid talk along temperance lines.

The new Loyal Temperance Legion of the U. B. Church under the leadership of Mrs. Bessie Long gave a flag drill and song, which was the closing feature of the afternoon.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE W. C. T. U.
The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Presbyterian Church, Friday at 7:30 P. M.

ENTERTAINED GUEST AT PICKAWAY CLUB
Miss Elizabeth Dunlap and Miss Myriam Ruggles are motoring to Columbus today to meet Miss Gretchen Tuttle, of Los Angeles, Cal., who was with them on their tour of Europe this summer. They will have luncheon at the Maramor in Columbus and dinner at the Pickaway Country Club, after which they will return to Columbus to

Their guests will be Mrs. William Foreman, Miss Margaret Weldon and Miss Evangeline Smith.

TARLTON W. C. T. U. MEETS AT DELONG'S
The Tarlton W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Charles DeLong Friday afternoon. The meeting was opened by singing "Victory Bells" and the reading of the scripture followed by prayer by Miss Mary Porter.

The business session consisted of the election of officers, the 1935 officers being re-elected for another year: president, Mrs. Val Valentine; vice president and treasurer, Miss Mary Porter; secretary, Miss Myrtle Gill.

The next meeting will be held the first Friday of the month instead of the second at the home of Mrs. Rosa Beougher.

SEWING CLUB MEETS THURSDAY
Mrs. Wallace Crist was hostess to her sewing club Thursday afternoon at her home on N. Court-st. The members enjoyed a very pleasant social afternoon. Mrs. Harry Dresbach will entertain the club the next time.

L. T. L. CONTEST THURSDAY EVENING
There will be a Silver Medal Contest, Tuesday evening Sept. 30, in the U. B. Church, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The contestants and others taking part in the program are members of the L. T. L. recently organized in the church and all are members of the U. B. Sunday School. An interesting and profitable evening is promised to all who will attend.

BUSINESS WOMEN MEET THURSDAY
A delicious chicken dinner was enjoyed Thursday at 6 P. M. by the Business and Professional Women's Club in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The committee responsible for the dinner was composed of Miss Helen Bartholomew, chairman; Miss Nellie Anderson, Misses Hilda and Willa Burns, Mrs. Cora Coffland and Dr. Isa Carr. The dinner guests were Miss Gladys Howard, Betty Morris, and Miss Snyder of Ashville.

After the business session which was presided over by the vice president, Miss Mary Howard, a program devoted to the late Mrs. W. J. Graham, who was the first president and a wonderful worker in the club was in charge of Miss Charlotte McEwing.

The rest of the evening was spent in hearing reports from the meeting at Lancaster last Thursday, when the Lancaster Club entertained the Circleville Club.

ENTERTAINS CLUB WITH A DINNER
Mrs. Austin Rader entertained her Euchre Club at a dinner Wednesday evening at her home near Fox Post Office. Six tables were at play. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edge of Washington C. H. were out-of-town guests.

At the close of the game trophies were awarded Mrs. Burr Rader, Mrs. Charles Fellers, Charles Fellers, Will List, Mrs. Will List and Robert Edge.

Mrs. Rader was assisted by Mrs. Max Rader, Mrs. George Shook, and Mrs. Frank Reichelderfer.

LADIES AID OF RINGGOLD MEETS

A group of women of the Ringgold Lutheran Ladies' Society met at the Lutheran Parish House here Thursday for an all day sewing. Mrs. L. V. Martin, a member of the Ringgold Congregation, donated material for 20 choir robes. Work on these robes progressed rapidly Thursday. It is planned to have them ready to wear for the next Communion Service, which will be held in the near future.

A delicious picnic dinner was served at the noon hour and a social afternoon along with their work was enjoyed.

ENTERTAINED CARD CLUB
Mrs. A. H. Rogers was hostess to the members of her bridge club Thursday evening, when they held their annual "spread" at her home on Watt-st. She was assisted by Miss Catherine Weiler.

Three tables of bridge were in progress during the evening. When scores were tallied trophies were presented to Mrs. Henry Mader and Mrs. Harvey Sweyer. Mrs. David Dunlap was a substituting guest.

ENTERTAINS AFTERNOON CLUB
Mrs. E. I. Cephart of N. Court-st. was hostess Thursday afternoon to members of her bridge club with two tables at play. When scores were tallied prizes went to Mrs. Lester Coate, Mrs. Robert Denman and Mrs. Glen Geib. A dainty salad course was served at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. George Dresbach will entertain the club in two weeks.

RAIN PREVENTS OCEAN FLIGHT

HARBOR GRACE, N.D., Sept. 26.—Adverse weather conditions and further rain today prevented the takeoff for England of Lieutenant Errol Boyd and Harry Connor. Fueling of their Bellanca monoplane "Columbia," veteran of one trans-Atlantic crossing and many other long distance flights, was held up by the weather.

Mrs. Denny Pickens and son, Robert, were called to Cincinnati Friday by the serious illness of Mrs. Pickens' son, Wilbur Maiden. Mr. Maiden is suffering from gall stones.

Mrs. Lucy Price Again Heads County W. C. T. U.

A most inspiring and well attended county meeting of the Pickaway Women's Christian Temperance Union was held Thursday in the United Brethren Church, this city. The county president, Mrs. Lucy B. Price, was the presiding officer for the day and she opened the meeting with the song, "America."

Mrs. Mary E. Rife of the Circleville Union had charge of the devotionals which she concluded with the song "Lead On, Oh King Eternal." The roll call of the Unions showed ten Unions present with 51 members at the opening of the session. A yearly report of the year's work was read by the president, which was followed by the treasurer's annual report.

Mrs. John Wright of Columbus, state speaker for the day, and Mrs. Orr, president of Fairfield-co, were introduced and welcomed. Both responded with pleasing speeches. The annual election of County officers followed in charge of Mrs. Price. While the tellers were out counting the ballots the following directors of departments gave their annual reports;

Anti-Narcotics .. Mrs. Mary A. Dunlap;

Child Welfare Miss Mary Harpster;
Christian Citizenship Mrs. May Crites;
Contests .. Mrs. Abbie Gusman.
Exhibits and Fair .. Mrs. Minola Spangler.

The report of the election of the county officers for the ensuing year was as follows: county president, Mrs. Lucy B. Price; vice-president, Mrs. Mary Porter; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Adda Prushing; recording - secretary, Mrs. Bessie Long; treasurer, Mrs. Abbie Gusman.

After the appointment of committees and the noon prayer and song the session adjourned. All went to the Community House where a delicious chicken dinner was served to them by the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. During the noon executive meeting the directors of departments were named and other important business transacted.

The afternoon session opened with a song service led by Mrs. Val Valentine accompanied by Mrs. Meta Hay, county pianist. The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Abbie Gusman. After the reading of the minutes of the morning session, the directors of the departments, which were chosen at the executive meeting, were named:

Anti-Narcotic, Mrs. Mary Dunlap; Child Welfare, Mary Harpster; Christian Citizenship, Mrs. May Crites; Contests, Mrs. Abbie Gusman; Sabbath Observance, Mrs. Mary Gray; Exhibits and Fairs, Mrs. Spangler; Flower Mission, Mrs. Mary Dunlap; Health, Mrs. Wilda Carpenter; Institutes, Central Committee; Legislation, Miss Florence Teegardin; Motion Picture, Mrs. Julia Weaver; Parliamentary Usage, Mrs. John Dunlap; Peace, Mrs. Florence Seaborn; Evangelistic, Mrs. Abbie Gusman; Publicity, Mrs. Delphine Cromley; S. T. L., Mrs. Katherine Reber; Social Morality, Mrs. Van Vickie; Soldiers and Sailors, Mrs. Mary Rife; Sunday School, Mrs. Pearl Adkins; Temperance and Missions, Mrs. Alice Rader, Union Signal Promoter, Mrs. Lucy Cline, Non Alcoholic Products, Mrs. Brundage; L. T. L. Lic, Mrs. Anna Boots.

Mrs. Meta Hay and Mrs. Val Valentine were named as county pianist and county-musical director. Miss Mary Porter had charge of a very impressive memorial service for the 11 who have passed away during the year. In conclusion Mrs. Myrtle Noggle and Mrs. Ruth Reid sang "Lead Kindly Light".

Mrs. John Wright was then presented and gave a very stirring and earnest address. She stressed the importance of the ballot to the dry cause. Only through the womanhood of this nation can the good work go on. She touched upon the political situation and surely showed that she had put much time and thought upon it. She said: "Why are the wets so anxious to remove the 18th amendment if more intoxicating liquors are being used now. Our government was too deeply bought with blood-shed and mother's tears to allow it to be broken down. We must be loyal and go forward."

Mrs. Mary E. Dunlap gave her report on Flower Mission and Mrs. Julia Weaver upon Motion Pictures.

Noah G. Spangler gave a few remarks, which were forceful and very much to the point. He also stressed the importance of voting and for all dry women to be loyal to the cause. A pleasing vocal duet was then given by Mrs. Noggle and Mrs. Reid, who were accompanied by Miss Grimes.

The final reports of directors of departments followed; Publicity, Mrs. Long; Soldiers and sailor, Mrs. Mary E. Rife; Temperance and Missions, Mrs. Alice Rader; Union Signal, Mrs. Lillie Brinker; Evangelism, Mrs. Gusman.

The final address of the afternoon was given by Rev. W. F. Rutherford, pastor of the U. B. Church. He gave a splendid talk along temperance lines.

The new Loyal Temperance Legion of the U. B. Church under the leadership of Mrs. Bessie Long gave a flag drill and song, which was the closing feature of the afternoon.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Presbyterian Church, Friday at 7:30 P. M.

A dainty salad course was served at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. George Dresbach will entertain the club in two weeks.

RAIN PREVENTS OCEAN FLIGHT

HARBOR GRACE, N.D., Sept. 26.—Adverse weather conditions and further rain today prevented the takeoff for England of Lieutenant Errol Boyd and Harry Connor. Fueling of their Bellanca monoplane "Columbia," veteran of one trans-Atlantic crossing and many other long distance flights, was held up by the weather.

Mrs. Denny Pickens and son, Robert, were called to Cincinnati Friday by the serious illness of Mrs. Pickens' son, Wilbur Maiden. Mr. Maiden is suffering from gall stones.
